A BETTER, SUSTAINABLE LIVING FOR ALL

Urban Bird is building a future that preserves the interconnected relationship between birds, people and nature.

We work to conserve one of the most important and impactful places on the planet — your community! This is a place where you live, work, relax, and educate your children. This is where thinking locally and acting globally actually takes place. And your community is a place that has the power to significantly shape and change lives. Our team is active at every level — conserving birds and open spaces, and reversing an unsustainable trend that is driving a wedge between children and nature.

Birds, other wildlife, and green spaces are essential to a healthy community. If we are to “meet the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs”, then we simply cannot ignore the health, environmental, and social benefits of suburban and urban preserves and open spaces as well as their value in maintaining native bird populations. A new approach to conservation is required, and Urban Bird innovates at every step to ensure our projects foster lasting changes that benefit bird populations and positively affect your life.

Birds, People, Communities:

An Integrated Nature: Urban Bird champions, enhances and helps create mixed-use green spaces in communities that serve as educational opportunities, community resources and native habitat.

Burrowing Owl Conservation

Network: Urban Bird combines hands-on advocacy, research, education, and progressive burrowing owl and habitat management policies to reverse a trend that currently promotes extirpation.

Communities of Action: The Communities of Action program connects community and civic leaders to one another so they can share ideas, foster sustainably planned cities, and create green space results.

Conservation Policy: Urban Bird works to secure transformative change at the local and national level; partnering with and advocating for governments and agencies to protect birds, urban habitats, and the natural resources we all need.
